

Porsche Museum Grusse von Deutschland! Schwarzwald

Theoretically fast enough to drive on the ceiling (enough downforce).

What could the Porsche Museum and the Black Forest (Schwarzwald) have in common? They are both within minutes of where we are staying! So, I went to the new Porsche museum this morning, and then after lunch we took a drive through the Northeastern corner of the Black Forest, all with time to have dinner at a Hausbrauerie (not pictured).

Both production and race cars were well represented.
