

Goettingen

Grüsse von Deutschland!

A tradition is held to kiss Gaenseliesel (the fountain) when one receives their doctorate from the University. All other kisses are forbidden by law.

We spent a fantastic day with the Nolte family, who hosted the day with food, music and a guided tour of the city.

We went to the top of the Bismarckturm for a great view of the city.

Deutsches Theater

The home of Otto von Bismarck (while attending the University), who successfully brought the German states together to form the first "Reich" of Germany. Now one can buy a cell phone there.
